Testa Produce is home to the first freestanding wind turbine in the City of Chicago. The turbine supplies 750 Kilowatts of power and it's estimated that the turbine will generate roughly 30% of the building's power needs. In a given year, it will generate roughly 880,000 kilowatt/ hours of energy equivalent to about 80 homes worth of energy each year!

Join us for the unique experience of touring the Testa Produce state-of-the-art distribution center, newly built in 2011. Testa Produce is Chicagoland's premier wholesale distributor of fresh and frozen fruits, vegetables and an industry leader in green & sustainable technologies including, building a LEED Platinum certified facility that features an energy efficient design to reduce energy consumption.
